Question No. 29	You work in the customer service department. You are attending a customer who is pleased with the product they have purchased and is expressing it. The conversation does not seem like ending soon. You have other customers waiting. What do you do?
Answer Options	A)	B)	C)	D)
	Let the customer know that you will be happy to contact them through email and must attend to the next customer.	Ask them for their contact information and let them know that you will follow-up as soon as possible.	Listen to the customer as you can possibly persuade them to leave a positive review on the company's website.	Let the customer know that you have to attend to the next customer and would like to stop the conversation.
Right Option	B

Question No. 30	Your supervisor has assigned you a larger workload than your colleagues. He justified it by saying you are competent. This workload is preventing you from fulfilling other job requirements or taking a break. How do you respond?
Answer Options	A)	B)	C)	D)
	Carry on completing the workload despite the pressure as you do not want to be seen as incompetent.	Discuss with the supervisor and renegotiate deadlines for the completion of your various workloads.	Have an open discussion with the supervisor and let him know you are finding the situation difficult.	File a report against the supervisor to the respective authority and ask for a transfer.
Right Option	C

Question No. 31	Group Questions: (Q: 31 to Q: 35)
	During last year's Christmas period, shops had less than half the number of visitors they had experienced just three years before. This drop demonstrates a fundamental shift in the way people are now shopping and buying. Whilst there were concerns about online trading in the early days, this has declined now and as confidence in the internet continues to grow and grow, so too does online shopping. Consumers have busy lives and they are only getting busier. They have less time to visit the shops as they traditionally did. Whilst a trip to the shops is still regarded by many as an enjoyable past-time, it is also regarded as a luxury. By shopping online, consumers can shop when it suits them and can also use price comparison and review websites to ensure they are getting the best deal. Which of the following would best replace the word 'fundamental' in the second sentence?
Answer Options	A)	B)	C)	D)
	Declining	Major	Worrying	Trending
Right Option	B

Question No. 32	Which of the following statements best describes the trend in online shopping?
Answer Options	A)	B)	C)	D)
	At first, consumers thought it a great idea, but since then, they have become less sure.	Consumers cannot decide whether they prefer online or traditional shopping.	People have been forced to shop online in order to grab the best bargains.	People were initially wary about online shopping, but are more confident now.
Right Option	D

Question No. 33	Which of the following statements can be inferred from the passage? People now regard internet shopping as
Answer Options	A)	B)	C)	D)

Question No. 36	Group Questions: (Q: 36 to Q: 40)
	When a call center agent provides their customer all the information they need without passing it to someone else, it is known as 'one and done'. 'One and done' calls are measured by many call centers as a way of measuring agent efficiency.
	When handling a call, there are three key steps: Step 1: Answering the call Step 2: Time spent talking to the customer (the 'talk time') Step 3: Computer-based follow up activities the agent needs to do after the call (the 'wrap time').
	The talk time and the wrap time is measured to create an overall statistic known as 'call duration'. This is another essential measure in most call centers.
	According to the passage, which one of the following is a key measure in many call centers?
Answer Options	A)	B)	C)	D)
	How the customer rates the agent after the call.	How detailed the notes are that the agent makes.	How quickly the agent manages to end the call.	How easily the agents learn the processes.
